Course preparation

In addition to attendance in each class, each student is expected to complete at least the following in order to successfully prepare for examinations in this course:

1. Read the textbook section(s) before each corresponding lecture.
2. Work the examples from the reading carefully.
3. Take notes on and ask questions regarding examples from class.

Missed coursework policy

In general, there are no makeups for quizzes, exams, worksheets, or homeworks. As a result, I will drop at the lowest 2 quiz scores and the lowest 2 worksheet scores. Students may make up an exam for religious reasons. It is the student's responsibility to notify me by Friday, February 3 if (s)he cannot take an exam for religious reasons. In the case of an extraordinary circumstance, the student must notify both me and the corresponding teaching assistant by email as soon as possible in accordance with the policy outlined by the university:

<https://www.president.umd.edu/administration/policies/section-v-student-affairs/v-100g>

Additional resources

1. Math Success (Oakland Hall M-F 6-9PM)
2. Department tutoring in MTH0301
3. Instructor and TA office hours
4. Links and course supplements to be posted on Canvas (elms.umd.edu)

Canvas (elms.umd.edu)

Announcements and course documents will be regularly posted to Canvas. students can also use the gradebook to approximate their current grade for the course, but the grade shown on canvas is not guaranteed to be accurate.

Academic integrity

You are encouraged to seek help from as many outside resources that you can, including other students. However, quizzes and exams are for individual assessment, and cheating will not be tolerated. Make sure that you know the policies on academic integrity in the undergraduate catalog, available at:

<http://www.umd.edu/catalog/index.cfm/show/content.section/c/27/ss/1583/s/1566>

DSS Accommodation

If you are entitled to accommodation through the DSS office, you must submit your accommodation letter to me no later than Friday, February 3. In order to receive accommodations for an exam, you must submit a request online no later than one week before that exam.
